

Hymn for Peace - by Lana

War brings strife and endless pain,
Children suffer without play.
Death and fear a world in vain,
Lots of fields are very plain.

But peace oh peace so calm and bright,
Brings hope and love a guiding light.
Parents there with happy might,
Children there with delight.

In war's dark night, we lose our way,
We strive for peace in every day.
Peace shines forth, a brighter day,
We wave our peaceful flags and shout hooray.

Let's strive for love and rights.
Let's end the war, the endless fight.
